

Skincare therapist to the stars launches DVD

I'm in no way related to a Royalty but boy, do I feel like a princess after each facial treatment administered by Ruth "magic hands" Minoletti.

Ruth now lives back in the UK but her time in Australia was enough to make more than a mark (or should that be remove more than a mark) on the faces of hundreds of Australian women.

Quite frankly, what this woman doesn't know about skincare isn't worth knowing.

For over 40 years she's been dishing out advice - along with her treatments - to mere mortals like myself and the cream of London society. Royalty, movie stars, high flying business execs and fashion icons are among those who have put their faces – and their trust – into the hands of skin care therapist Ruth Minoletti.

Those Australian fans who miss Ruth's touch, catch up for a skincare "top up" with her on her annual visits back to the Sunshine Coast but she's now put some of her secrets into an educational DVD and we can all learn from this!

The DVD can be ordered via the website: www.skincareinternational.com.au